City of Springfield Launches New Online Citizen Information Initiative

SPRINGFIELD, OH— (January 20, 2017)— The City of Springfield has launched a new section of its website that allows citizens to sign up for email news alerts and an e-newsletter. The alerts and e-newsletter will include information about upcoming City events, updates on City projects and programs.

“We are excited to launch an additional method of communication with our residents,” said City Manager Jim Bodenmiller. “We are dedicated to being transparent and keeping our residents informed. The new email alerts and e-newsletter will serve both purposes.”

The City has been working to increase and improve its communication efforts with residents and businesses. This includes an overhaul of the City’s website, the addition of a Facebook page, weekly press releases, and now email alerts and an e-newsletter.

“We hope that residents take advantage of this additional method of communication and visit the website and sign up,” Bodenmiller said. “This will be a great resource and will allow residents to get updates on City events, projects, and programs.

To sign up, visit the City website homepage at www.springfieldohio.gov .
